ALL SOULS Month of Masses: Praying for our deceased loved ones is a great act of charity. It's a time to give thanks for their lives and to pray for the repose of their souls if they are in Purgatory. All Souls envelopes are available in the vestibule of the church or in the church office. Please write the names of your loved ones on the envelope and return them in the collection basket. These envelopes will be placed on the altar and the souls written on them will be prayed for at all Masses during November.

A special thank you to Michael Daly, Julie Masters and Therese Masters for organizing the Family Life Ministry Parents Dinner last Saturday. Also thanks to the high school students who served and those who babysat! An evening with a peaceful meal and fellowship for our young parents was a thoughtful gift.

May a Roman Catholic receive Holy Communion at another Religious denomination's services? This easiest answer to this is "no." However, like everything in law (both church and civil), there are exceptions to the rule. First, a Catholic may not, under any circumstance, receive Communion in a Protestant church's religious service. This is covered in the Church's Code of Canon Law, canon 844. Just as non-Catholic, Christians are not generally permitted to receive Holy Communion at a Catholic liturgy, neither may Catholics receive at a Protestant church. The Holy See's Instruction Redemptionis Sacramentum (issued in March 2004) reiterated this in paragraph 84. Now for the exception: if a baptized Roman Catholic who has already received first Holy Communion is present for the celebration of the Eucharist in one of the "uniate" Catholic Churches, e.g., Byzantine Catholic, Maronite Catholic, etc., then the Roman Catholic may receive Holy Communion. In the Orthodox Churches, while Roman Catholic law would permit you to receive, the laws of the Orthodox Church do not. So, in this latter case, it is best to check with the Orthodox priest who is the celebrant of the Eucharist to see if he would permit you to receive.
